

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The opening of the University of Vermont at Burlington again has been postponed, this time to Nov. 7.

Mrs. Walter Boomhower, wife of one of the officers of the Vermont industrial school at Vergennes, died last week of pneumonia.

George G. Walsh, a private at Camp Meade, Md., who was arrested in Burlington on the charge of forging checks, has been taken back to camp, where the military authorities will deal with him.

A shipment of 1,100 pounds of nut shells and fruit stones was made from Brattleboro last week and another truck load will be sent soon. These are for government use in making masks for soldiers.

Five unusually large oak logs cut on the Hale company's timber lot in the town of Sunderland were recently hauled to the company's factory at East Arlington. From the five sticks 3,800 feet of lumber was sawed.

Dr. N. R. Caldwell has been commissioned acting health officer in Burlington under Dr. C. E. Dalton of the state board of health, until a permanent officer is appointed to succeed Dr. Francis Ennis, who died a few days ago.

Influenza conditions throughout the state are much improved and it is expected the ban on public gatherings will be removed next Sunday automatically except in communities where local conditions require a longer quarantine.

Last Sunday Rev. A. A. Mandigo of St. Johnsbury, secretary of the Vermont Methodist conference, Rev. F. W. Hazen of the Congregational church and eighteen others dug and stored the potato crop of a neighbor who was ill with pneumonia.

Frederick N. King, Jr., son of R. M. King of North Clarendon, while riding horseback Wednesday evening was thrown off the horse and killed when the animal became frightened at an automobile truck. King's leg was broken below the knee and he was bruised.

Peter Tooton, teamster for the Vermont Marble company at West Rutland was seriously injured Friday afternoon when a horse he was driving fell on him, pinning him to the ground, breaking several ribs and possibly causing internal injuries.

Alton Carpenter broke both bones of one leg below the knee last week while trying to move a gasoline engine at his home in Lunenburg. He was alone at the time and had to lie with the engine pinning him down until he was heard by a neighbor, who released him and got a doctor.

Maj. W. W. Townsend of Rutland was a speaker at the dedication of LaFayette house, a convalescent home for American soldiers and sailors at New York. Maj. Townsend belongs to the medical reserve corps of the army and is stationed at New York as a visiting specialist at embarkation ports.

W. F. Parker, vice-president of the Vermont Jewellers' association, died Oct. 28 at his home in Fair Haven after several months' illness. Mr. Parker was 76 years old. He entered the jewelry trade in Rutland in 1862, went to Fair Haven in 1871 and for 47 years had conducted a store there.

On account of high cost of materials and lack of patronage, the following well known hotels, the Hardwick inn, Hardwick; American house, Richmond, and Green Mountain inn, Stowe, have been closed for the winter. Hale's tavern at Wells River also has been closed, but J. F. Hale, the proprietor, has leased a large house for the winter, which is well equipped and which will be opened as the Tavern annex. Lack of fuel to heat the Tavern was the cause of its being closed.

Corp. Delmer F. Borah, the first R. I. land boy to be invalided home from France, is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer F. Borah, Jr., in that city. He received bullet wounds in one knee and one hand was shattered at the battle of Verdun-Tardenois. Many of his Vermont friends were killed about that time. Private William Lynch losing his life the same day that Borah was injured, and Privates Mylott and Joseph Taggart of Ira, who went across with Mylott, died of wounds and Taggart was killed in action. Borah's hand undoubtedly will be permanently crippled.

Elbert C. Tenney, who for 11 years had been manager of the Frederick Hotel, died last week.

Meetings of the Board of Civil Authority to Revise the Checklist to Be Used at the General Election, November 5, 1918.

The board of civil authority will meet for the above purpose in the city court room, city hall, in city of Barre, on October 29, 24, 30 and 31, at 7 o'clock p. m. JAMES MACKAY, city clerk. October 15, 1918.

VERMONT KILLED.

Lieut. Frederick B. Hanna, Burlington, Was Aviation Pilot.

Burlington, Oct. 30.—Lieutenant Frederick B. Hanna, a young son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hanna of this city, was killed in France in an airplane accident on October 2, according to a message received by his parents from the war department. He was born at Denison, Tex., May 27, 1897, but came to Burlington when a boy. He attended the local high school and was graduated in the class of 1914. He entered service in July, 1917, and trained in the aviation section at Princeton university. He sailed for overseas a year ago. The last letter from him was written on Sept. 26, and at that time he was in the Toul sector.

Besides his parents, he is survived by an older brother, T. B. Hanna, Jr., of Boston, and two sisters, the Misses Charlotte and Mary Hanna of this city.

PREVENT INFLUENZA

If you are "run down" or out of condition. If sluggish bowels have allowed poisonous impurities to accumulate in your system you are liable to suffer severely with the grip. Dr. True's Elixir, the famous household remedy of 67 years' reputation, may ward off the grip or make an attack light and easily thrown off. Why? Because

Dr. True's Elixir is a vegetable medicine that puts the system in good condition, prevents and relieves constipation, stimulates the appetite and improves the digestive system. It can do no harm. It is purely vegetable. Ask your druggist for it, or write DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me. 40c, 60c, $1.00.
